

Evolution

STUDENTS all over the country are watching the outcome of the present bills against the teaching of evolution. This should make a great contribution to the field of knowledge. People will be more interested when they find they are studying something that they should not. When the laws of any state in the union can force the laws of nature to retract their statements, which are so evident, then they will truly have accomplished their task. Until then laws will have no effect upon the people. When people can see in Nature so much more of evolution than can ever be found in books there is not much danger of anti-evolution laws setting the world on fire.

Student Conventions

THREE THOUSAND STUDENTS were at Milwaukee, December 28 to January 1 for the National Student Conference. Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. groups in many colleges and universities made up this conference of young people which meets every student generation. "The grave problems discussed were contemporary as this morning's headlines," says The New Student. Such topics as war, compulsory military training, jazz, capitalism, narrow nationalism, materialism, race inequality, violation of the eighteenth amendment, and affiliation of the church with exploiting powers. Debates on science and religion were conducted by two noted Theological Seminary professors. Many interesting things were brought out in this conference.

Student Problems

FROM time to time we shall be forced to consider these graver problems of the race. College students are no longer infants. Thinking should begin here beneath the eaves of this institution. We have plenty of things to take up our minds all around, but it is necessary that we learn to think straight. Socrates said, "Knowledge is virtue," and that the most important thing a person can do is to "find" himself. That is why we go to college, to find ourselves. If the problems at hand seem too deep we either admit failure by our actions or else we prove our true worth. Which shall it be?

Radium Men

RETURNING once again to the evolution question, Dr. Newman makes the suggestion that if man were a special creation, special material other than "the dust of the ground" should have been used. That is quite interesting. If we had been made of pure radium or some other radio-active substance, all this bother of getting food and clothes for our bodies would be eliminated. More time could have been spent in mental activities. As it is we have to spend three-fourths of our time keeping alive. What is done in the other fourth does not contribute greatly to education.

Retiring President Speaks

Whether or not the past semester has been a success will have to be decided by the individual student. If it has been a success, the Board of Control is responsible. If it has been a failure, I am responsible. We have made no outstanding contributions, unless it be the establishment of a bookkeeping system, originated by Mr. Bruff, to whom the board is greatly indebted for advice and counsel.

The Board of Control has prevented non-members of the student body from enjoying the same privileges as members, because it feels that they do not show the spirit which should be universal in college life.

The college spirit has been greater this year than ever before, creating an enthusiasm among the various officers of the student body. The members have worked unselfishly for the good of the student body and Santa Ana junior college.

To James Smith, and his associates, I wish the best of luck, and to the student body, and my associates, I wish to say: Thank you!

DATE FOR HONOR SOCIETY PARTY CHANGED

Plans for the Affair Are Not Divulged by Hostess

Honor students of the college are to be entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Northcross next Thursday evening. Invitations have been extended to all honor students of last semester whether or not they are at present in school.

The night was formerly set for Wednesday but as there is a basketball game that night it was postponed until Thursday.

Miss Lelia Watson and Miss Mary Swass are co-hostesses with Mrs. Northcross and they are making many interesting plans for the entertainment of the guests. The entertainment is going to be a surprise for the hostesses have not divulged a single plan.

A very good time is anticipated by the fortunate ones who are invited to the affair.

In the spring the faculty will entertain this semester's honor students with a royal banquet at the Mission Inn at Riverside. This is an annual affair, and is one much anticipated by the students.

Enrollment Swelled By Entrance Of New Studies

Approximately Thirty Students Added to College Ranks

Approximately twenty or thirty new students are enrolling in the junior college this semester. A complete list of the new people is not available to date, but a partial list has been compiled.

Partia Friedenbloom, Boo Lancaster, Lester Steffanson, Leonard Field, John Winterbown, Bob Thompson, and Elizabeth Archer are former students who have returned.

Rouel Yount, former high school and college student here entered J. C. Monday. Rouel attended J. C. two years ago, but returned East after completing a semester here. He was prominent in dramatics.

Emily Holmes and Hellen Bowers, former high school students here, are among the newcomers. Helen is a transfer from Berkeley.

MAYOR PRESENTS AWARDS TO ESSAY WINNERS

Trostel, Purvis, Harnois and Sneve Receive Cash Prizes

Mayor Purrinton prestned the eight prizes to the winners of the Home Products essay contest conducted by the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce last Thursday afternoon.

Everett Trostel, Don Purvis, Charlotte Harnois, and Orton Sneve were the prize winners from the college entrants.

The judges, Clyde C. Downing, H. C. Rutledge, and W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., were pleased with the number of essays entered and complimented the contestants on their arguments for the home product campaign.

LIBRARY TO CLOSE EVENINGS AND SATURDAYS

Lack of Patronage is Cause of New Decision

Not enough students use the college reference library to warrant its being kept open evenings and Saturdays. Accordingly, it will not remain open other than school hours, it was announced today.

The longer hours were given as an accommodation to the students, it is said, but since so few gave the library any patronage, it was deemed advisable to discontinue the service.

WILD WEST SHOW SOON HERE

The campus is soon to witness the incongruity of a carnival given by the Y. W. C. A. For on Friday, February 11, the "Y" Hut is to be the scene of a Wild West Carnival.

There are many forms of entertainment for the jaded collegians. The probability of a few surprises and perhaps some shocks was suggested by Muriel Smith, president of the college Y. W. One interesting feature of the evening will be a dance by Elaine Smith. Marian Stanley and Mildred Hunter will create some excitement in a decidedly novel fashion.

Co-eds, faculty members, and the men of the student body are invited. A dime is the admission charge.

RUSSIAN POLICY IS QUESTION OF NEXT LEAGUE DEBATE

Lon McIntire and Clarence Trickey Meet Riverside Negatives Here; Negative Team, Winthrop Gorden and Emil Foust, Travel to Pomona

"Resolved: That we favor the present policy of the United States toward Russia," is the question for the next league debate with Pomona and Riverside.

The debate is scheduled for February eighteenth with our negative team, Winthrop Gorden and Emil Foust traveling to Pomona, and Clarence Trickey and Lon McIntire, the affirmative, debating here with Riverside.

New King Crowned

Long live the king!

Today Jimmie Smith succeeds the ex-king, Hendrick Van Rensselaer to the throne. In an impressive ceremony the old king will abdicate to the new Most Serene Highness, Emperor of the Spaniards.

On this, his coronation day, failure to obey the monarch's decrees will be considered as an act of high treason, and the offender will be met with severe punishment.

Long live the king!

The affirmative team with Lon and Trickey ought to draw a good crowd. Everyone should support this league debate. Even if it is impossible to get a big crowd at Pomona, a good attendance is counted on in Santa Ana.

The debating teams have been meeting three times a week for the last few weeks, and intend to have a lengthy meeting Saturday afternoon. They have been wading thru numberless books and magazines at the city library for quite a while.

Go see the debate February 18, either here or at Pomona.

ALGOL EDITORS MAKE KNOWN PROGRESS

Dummy is Made, Snaps Taken, Art Editor Plans Secret

Algol editors announce that the dummy has been made, the engraving contract let, and the cover decided upon for this year's publication.

The art department is keeping its plans in the dark, according to David Ross, but unique designs are promised.

Alfred Ault has shot the pictures of the football and the girls' basketball teams.

The cut of the seal that was used on the Algol of 1926 will appear again, and the cover is to be tan or brown.

CALENDAR

- Wednesday, February 2—King's Day. Installation of officers at assembly.
- Thursday, 3—Honor Society party at Mrs. Northcross.
- Interclass Track meet.
- Friday, 4—Interclass Track meet.
- Saturday, 5—Basketball with Pomona here.

Faculty Welcomes Students

It is again a pleasure for the faculty to welcome a group of new students to Santa Ana junior college. The opportunities for personal service to the college community as well for personal development are great. Those of us who are privileged to be called Dons strive to uphold the ideals of chivalry, fair-play, fidelity, and righteous endeavor which characterized the dons of old. We trust that with the combined efforts of old and new students and faculty this second semester will mark new and higher attainment in independent thinking tempered with tolerance, striving for the best, and broadening interests as opposed to provincialism.

SPORTSMANSHIP

SANTA ANA FAILED to uphold her high standard of sportsman-ship in last week's game with Riverside. Because the referee was calling fouls very closely during the decisive moments of the game, the rooters lost their heads and "booed" him.

It cannot be said that high school students were the cause of the outburst, because many prominent college people entered into the demonstration.

Apologies have been sent to Riverside, from Van Rensselaer to the Riverside student body president, and from Dean Fisk to A. G. Paul, director of Riverside junior college, but apologies cannot wipe out the stain on our name.

CAPTAIN GIVES REACTION

"Personally I don't like booing, and I'm sure the rest of the team feel the same way about it," said Captain Donald Squires. "It doesn't show good sportsmanship. Again if you want to look at it in the light of winning a game, such expressions on the part of the audience will only make the referee watch more closely the team whose fans are protesting. But being a good sport means more than winning a game to me."

FEELS ASHAMED

"I felt ashamed to meet the Riverside coach and the referee after the spectators' booing outburst which occurred during the tense moments of an otherwise generous contest.

It took the sweetness out of the victory," said Coach Walter L. Scott.

"Santa Ana heretofore has been a generous winner and a graceful loser," said Mr. Fisk. "More important than winning or losing a game is maintaining friendly relations with other colleges. As hosts we didn't treat our guests as they should be treated."

The Cynic Speaks

WE shall turn over a new leaf," we vow. "The slate is clean, and we shall be given a new chance to make good. We will be industrious and will no longer fritter away our precious time. We will get that 'A'. Watch us!"

But the cynic smiles a mirthless smile and takes the wind out of our arguments and humbles our simple enthusiasm.

"Yes you'll turn over a leaf, but it will not be forward. You may erase the slate, but the traces of the old imprints will still show thru. You think you will be given a new chance when your last year's record is in your teacher's and your eye? And your resolutions? Faugh! You will forget them within a week. Ha," the villian laughs, "don't tell me, I know."

Foiled and baffled we retreat. But, anyway, it was a good resolution.

Student Rostrum

Editor of the Don:

I was more or less put out at the Riverside game last Wednesday night. And in more ways than one.

Never have I seen such a poor example of sportsmanship as that shown by our student body on said evening. We grossly insulted the Riverside visitors, our guests; we insulted the hard-fighting, sportsman-like Riverside team and their worthy coach; we humiliated the man who is responsible for every one of our victories this year, Coach Walter L. Scott; and we more than insulted the referee, which is an unpardonable sin in itself. Why did we do such a thing? We did more damage in that short hour than we will be able to undo in a year. However, we can redeem ourselves if we will.

Wouldn't it be a much better thing to be known among the other colleges as a school that always treats its visitors with the greatest of respect, than to be known as a school of poor sports. The joys of victory would be the sweeter, and the sorrows of defeat less bitter if we would always conduct ourselves in a gentlemanly and ladylike way.

Athletics is the most powerful factor in college life today. Conducted and attended correctly, there is untold benefit to be derived. On the other hand, when in the hands of a Prisoner: "Yes, sir."

Judge: "Then what were you doing in hte gambling house when arrested?"

Prisoner: "Making a bolt for the door."

Dissatisfied Customer: "When I put the coat on the first time and buttoned it up, I burst the seam down the back."

His Tailor (brightly): "Yes, that shows how well our buttons are sewed on."

Mrs. Fitz-Caudle: "Ah, there was a time when you called me 'Daisy'; now it's often 'Mrs. Fitz-Caudle', as if I were the merest stranger to you."

Fitz-Caudle: "Found out my mistake, my dear. Daisies shut up at night."

A good deal of controversy is going about on just who is the extra man in college. There are a good many boys who would like to hold that honor. Pete Twist, Van, Len McIntire, Lyle Cook, and Cow Fields are the most promising candidates.

Lyle Cook bases his claim on the fact that he has "never bothered" any college girl.

Cow Fields attributes his claim to the fact that he has never been able to get a date with any college girl.

Van hasn't decided just why he should be the extra man, but he'd like to be it anyway.

Pete Twist, having cast off martial ties is a candidate for election on the "progressive" ticket.

In a count of the enrolled students one more man than woman was discovered on the books.

Bachelor's Ball
A Success

The Orange County Country Club proved an ideal setting for the Bachelor's dance held Saturday night from 9 to 12.

The club was lovely with its softly tinted lights and paper streamers of lavender and white. While the gay dresses of the girls added more color to the scene.

Orest Cianfoni's orchestra furnished the music which tended to revive the waltz. However, when Black Bottom was played, the couples were seen to go through the steps merrily.

Two favor dances were held. During the first one whistlecigarettes were given to the boys, while thimbles were presented to the girls. In the second dance, little toy crickets covered with gray paper were given.

Several of the Bachelor's hid their identity behind a coat of black played the part of negro servants to perfection. This gave a finishing touch to the function.

Cool punch was served throughout the dance to the revelers who numbered about one hundred and twenty-five.

Mr. and Mrs. Northercross, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mr. Or were the faculty members who kindly shaperoned the dance.

The Bachelor's have proven by their two dances that they are capable hosts, and are making their yearly hop a looked for occasion.

Bridge with Louise Stephenson

A group of college girls met for an interesting afternoon of bridge, Saturday, at the invitation of Louise Stephenson.

Clever little tallies were given to the guests as they arrived and the girls found their places at the attractive tables with these. A lively game of bridge ensued, and at the end of the afternoon Kate Benton was found to hold high score and Dorothy Beals low score. Attractive gifts were given to these girls.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, her mother, and aunt.

The girls enjoying the hospitality of Miss Stephenson were Enid Twist, Evelyn Metzgar, Anne Haddon, Dorothy Beals, Dorothy Clarkson, Ninette Rowland, Lois Winslow, Kate Benton, Betty Hoy, and Mrs. Livingston.

Valentine Party
At Harnois

Valentine Day was the motif of a party given last Saturday night by Charlotte Harnois.

The guests were first set at putting together puzzle hearts. The consolation prize was awarded to June Goodwin and "Venus" Harvey.

An evening of 500 and dancing followed. Chet Siegal and Gracie Gunn winning high scores in the game and "Venus" Harvey and Flora Greneau low scores.

Delicious refreshments were served to the guests who included, beside the hostess and the honoree, Gracie Gunn, of Hollywood, Eva McNeil, Sally Coe, Flora Greneau, June Goodwin, Chester Siegal, Dean Millen, Willard Middlebrook, Judson Riley, Guy Harvey, and Creston Harnois.

PROGRAMS MUST BE CHANGED EARLY

Programs must be changed within four weeks, according to an official announcement. After that time a fee of one dollar will be charged for any change in program.

INAUGURATION TO TAKE PLACE IN ASSEMBLY

Inauguration of the new officers will be the feature of this week's assembly.

Hendrick Van Rensselaer, last semester's skipper, will officially relinquish the gavel to his successor, Jimmie Smith. Lon McIntire, Kenneth Schroll, and Elaine Smith will also assume their respective offices of vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

No other definite plans for hte program have been announced.

It is highly possible that more than one assembly may be called, since it is the custom on King's Day to have a mock crowning and hi-jinx.

Squeek: "What's the difference between a stoker and a top deck passenger?"

DONS TRIM TIGER 30-29

LOCALS DEFEAT FORMER CHAMPS

Fighting like demons, the Dons overcame an early lead to defeat Riverside by the narrow but decisive margin of one point.

With Rogers flashing from one end of the court to the other, the king-Smith breaking up the Riverside pin of the offensive attack, Jimmie offense, Squeek Squires showing remarkable form in spite of his injured hand, and Wilbur Allee playing a marvelous role at guard in the last few minutes of play; all these proved that the Dons had recovered from their slump of the previous week.

Riverside broke through the faltering Santa Ana defense in the first minutes of play for a small lead but before the half-time Edgar and Labrucherie had found the loop for enough points to hold on to a one point lead at the half time.

In the third quarter Santa Ana looked like real champions, scoring at will. Edgar, high point man for Santa Ana, had his eagle eye on the basket scoring 16 points.

Long shots by a Tiger forward cut down a 22 to 17 lead at the third quarter to a final count of 30 to 29.

ROGERS LOST TO SQUAD

The faculty ax wrought havoc for the basketball team by lopping off Jerry Rogers, star center. The semester exams were a little too much for the tall Compton athlete, whose performance in football and basketball have been phenomenal. Coach Scott's flashy offense was built around Rogers, and his loss may prove disastrous to the team.

A shift in the present line-up and the addition of Wilbur Allee will probably be the way Coach Scott will attempt to rebuild his machine. Captain Squires can handle the jumping job and then draw back to his guard position with Russell Kokx taking his position at center.

If the locals can defeat San Bernardino tonight, they will have

SPORTSMANSHIP

Booing is a breach of sportsmanship etiquette. It has a detrimental effect upon the work of the referee and is likely to prejudice him in favor of the team being booed. Booing gives the student body a poor reputation as sportsmen which rapidly spreads to other institutions and makes for general ill-will and strained athletic relations.

Spectators should treat visiting opponents and spectators as guests and should extend to them every courtesy. Only when such a spirit is fostered on the part of players and spectators alike are athletics contributing their full measure in developing the essential traits of good citizenship which are an essential part of the major objectives in the physical education program in our school.

Holmes in "The Autocrat" says, "To brag a little, to show well, to crow gently, if in luck, to pay up, to own up, and to shut up, if beaten, are the virtues of a sporting man."

FROSH FAVORED TO COP INTER CLASS MEET THURSDAY, FRIDAY

The Freshmen are doped to cop the interclass track and field meet, to be held this week on the poly turf.

Rhinehardt is expected to take the shot and discus, since he has been doing consistently good work in both events. Schroll, a sophomore, looks like a winner in the javelin.

Rozelle is about the best broad-jumper, while Rogers, Mayo, and Trickey will fight for the high jump honors.

In the sprint events, Twist, McIntyre and Rozelle seem to be the best bets. Twist is expected to win, by virtue of his win in the inter-class plenty of time to rebuild the team before the crucial games with Riverside and Pasadena later in the season.

DONS WIN 39 28 FROM CITRUS

Playing like they would rather have been at the dance than playing basketball, the Dons took an easy game from Citrus junior college. The score was 39 to 28.

The entire team shown by comparison with their opponents. The work of Rogers on the offense was outstanding, and Squires and Kokx covered the Citrus forwards like wet blankets.

The second, third, and fourth (if any) string looked as good as the regulars; Allee especially provided some rapid fire work while he was in.

Frank Labrucherie and Faris Edgar looked good in the first half, finding the hoop from all angles except from the bleachers.

This victory keeps the local five in line for the championship, having gone through the first round with only one defeat, which was suffered while Squires was out of the line-up.

San Bernardino is the next school on the schedule. The Dons travel up there tonight for a tough game.

WE ARE delighting our patrons with the LeMur method of permanent waving - safe, speedy, sanitary, sure. Hair of any texture formed into soft, beautifully uniform waves that are lasting, by this method.

NO KINKS - NO FRIZZLES

Let our experienced operators give you a genuine
"Le Mur Permanent."
